An ordinance was passed ordering Contractor G. F. Stoelckinger to place manholes over the wells in the east end of town. An ordinance was also passed increasing the boundaries of the city so as to take in the Country club grounds and several other outlying tracts of land. This ordinance was passed on third reading. Councilman Shobe's being the only dissenting vote.

The Mishawaka Business Men's association petitioned the council to take over the city lighting system and pay the balance due on same amounting to $3,748.55. The association will meet a committee of the council Tuesday evening to discuss the matter.

Michael DeTouff and 15 others petitioned the council for an arc light on Union st. John DeMonck and eight others petitioned for water mains of Tenth st. between Main and Union. Loyal Hunter petitioned for a crosswalk at H. H. H. and Indiana ave.

A crosswalk at Joseph and Sarah sts. was asked for in a motion by Councilman Boggeman. Following a motion by the same councilman the C. S. B. & N. I. railroad was ordered to repair the crossing at Christmann and Broadway.

FOURTEEN FIRES DURING PAST WEEK

The fire department was called to Meridian st. Monday to extinguish a grass fire. The fire makes a total of 14 runs made by the local department since last Monday or an average of two each day. The record number came last Thursday when four runs were made.

It seems one of the ironies of fate that so many fires should occur during the present period of low water pressure as during the spring months there were weeks passing without an alarm. Luckily there has been no serious conflagration, however.

CIVICS LEAGUE MEETS.

The Mishawaka Civic league held a meeting at the Mishawaka hotel Monday evening. The press committee of the league will meet Tuesday morning and compose the newspaper report of the meeting which will be printed in the News-Times after noon edition. No reports are given out of occurrence at these meetings until composed by this press committee.

SURPLUS OF BILLY SUNDAY CAMPAIGN TO FIGHT SALOONS?

Rumors that considerable of the surplus left over from the Billy Sunday campaign would be used by Rev. Loren Edwards and others to ferret out alleged violations of the Sunday closing laws circulated Monday with the news that Mishawaka would get the first assignment of the money.

The rumors grew out of the sermon preached by Mr. Edwards Sunday in which he accused the police department of not enforcing the Sunday closing law.

Mayor Herzog denied Monday that Mr. Edwards had made any effort recently to change the conditions complained of.

"I haven't talked to him about this since last fall," said the mayor. "At that time a committee of church workers including Mr. Edwards called on me and asked me to have the patrolmen watch the saloons on Sunday."

"I told them that I knew of no violations of the law and that if they could secure any such evidence I would be glad to see that the offenders were prosecuted."

With the revival surplus coming to Mishawaka it was at once reported that Mr. Edwards would use it to try to get evidence of law violations by the saloon men.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TO HAVE SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS

Special features are to be carried out at the sessions of the Sunday school of the Presbyterian church each Sunday this month. Yesterday was known as "pastor's day" and the Rev. Loren Edwards called in charge of a special number. He conducted a quiz on the Bible. Next Sunday will be observed as Sunday school world's convention. On the following Sunday a special feature will be provided by the girls of the school and the following Sunday boys of the school will furnish a number. The succeeding Sunday will be missionary day.

ELKHART, Ind., July 7.—More than a hundred Elkhardtans, acting as the representatives of the 2,000 citizens who signed the petition for a new bridge over the St. Joseph river at N. Main st., went to Goshen Monday morning in 20 automobiles and trucks to present the petition to the board of county commissioners.

Immediately upon the arrival of the delegation, the commissioners adjourned to the court room and listened attentively to the spokesmen, seeming much impressed by the report for a new bridge as presented verbally by Lily Chamberlain, Mayor E. M. Chester, A. R. Beardsley, W. F. Stanton, Atty. R. E. Proctor, City Engineer A. M. Smith, J. W. Fieldhouse, Herman Borneman, Rev. Fr. Jansen, Warren G. Hill, J. C. Boss, E. C. Bickell, Frederick Palmer, B. C. Godfrey and A. H. Beardsley.

Leaders of the movement for a new bridge are optimistic and prophesy that Elkhardt will soon have a fine concrete structure the full width of Main st. as the connecting link between the north side and main parts of the city.

LIBRARY BOARD TO ACCEPT SMALL LEVY
By the terms of an agreement filed in the circuit court Monday by Atty. P. L. Turner, representing the library board and City Atty. R. E. The board expects to borrow about $1,500 to carry it over until such time as a larger levy can be made. The compromise releases the city of issuing new tax duplicates for the collection of the additional four cents which it had failed to collect in the spring installments.

MANAGER OF AKRON ADMITS A BIRTHDAY
AKRON, O., July 7.—Betrayed into an unjudicious statement, Manager Siegel of the local Interstars admitted that July 8 would be his birthday. Modestly he confessed to 18 years and seemed hurt when his veracity was questioned.

"It's the last birthday I'm going to have," Manager John declared. "I wouldn't be going to have this one if I had remembered to keep my mouth shut."

After commenting on the ages of those patriarchs, Honus Wagner and Larry Lajole, the Giants' leader went to have his lame knee treated.

But even though Siegel had telling he's not worn out by any means and has many more years as a ball player, to come. The lean and slippered pantslones stage still is a long way off, fans who have seen him cavort around in center field attest.

GIRL IS ASSAULTED; ASSAILANT ESCAPES

Police, Assisted by Citizens, Hunt For Police, Assisted by Citizens, Hunt For Ruth M. Robbins.

ELKHART, Ind., July 7.—Dragged into a clump of bushes near the house of the river, Ruth M. Robbins, 13-year-old step-daughter of C. W. Day, was criminally assaulted Monday morning by a stranger, a young man who had partially gained the young girl's confidence by telling her that he was a nephew of one of her nearest neighbors.

The young girl went to the river bank near the Day home, half a mile west of the city on the Lexington av. road, shortly after 7 o'clock. Her father had gone to his work and her mother had come to the city to do some shopping. Scarcely had she begun to fish when a young man described by her as being about 23 years of age, came down the river in a row boat and landed near her.

After assaulting her he forced her to accompany him to the bank and ordered her to remain there until he had reached the other shore.

Scarcely had the boat left the shore before the girl ran, screaming to the shore, meeting her mother, who had just returned from the city. The mother, even after notifying a neighbor to telephone to the police, was able to reach the river bank in time to see her daughter's assailant mount the opposite bank and disappear in the underbrush.

The police, assisted by a score or more of citizens, searched the territory opposite the scene of the crime for practically the entire day. A young man who was found not far away was taken across the river, but the girl stated that he was not the culprit, though he was dressed exactly as she had described her assailant.
